TOOTING OUR OWN HORN!

Patting itself on the back, DRAG magazine proudly celebrates its 2nd anniversary with this issue. We're happy to declare we have again fulfilled our obligations to our subscribers and wish to thank the many people who have the confidence in us for continuing success.

It wasn't easy to become America's #1 magazine about the transvestite for many reasons. Surprisingly the main stumbling block was the necessity to live down the reputation of other tv publication's lack of honesty and integrity.. those who promised but didn't come across. Many subscribers stated they hesitated at first because they had previously been taken by unscrupulous entrepreneurs.

We won them over.

Drag promised you four issues per year and you GOT 4 issues per year(January, July, April and October).

We are particularly proud to proclaim we are the 1st and ONLY tv publication to hit New York's newsstands(as in contrast to the bookstores). As of press time DRAG was found on 50 newsstands.

Right alongside, VOGUE, GOOD HOUSE-KEEPING and WOMAN'S DAY, DRAG magazine has won a rightful place for the transvestite as a valid and acceptable way of life!

Paradoxically it is the financial district of the nation, the Wall Street Area, which is most receptive to us!

Just wait til next year!!

NEWS

In Vol #2, Issue #6, DRAG magazine carried an illustrated story on the wedding of Liz Eden to a Mr. John Basso.

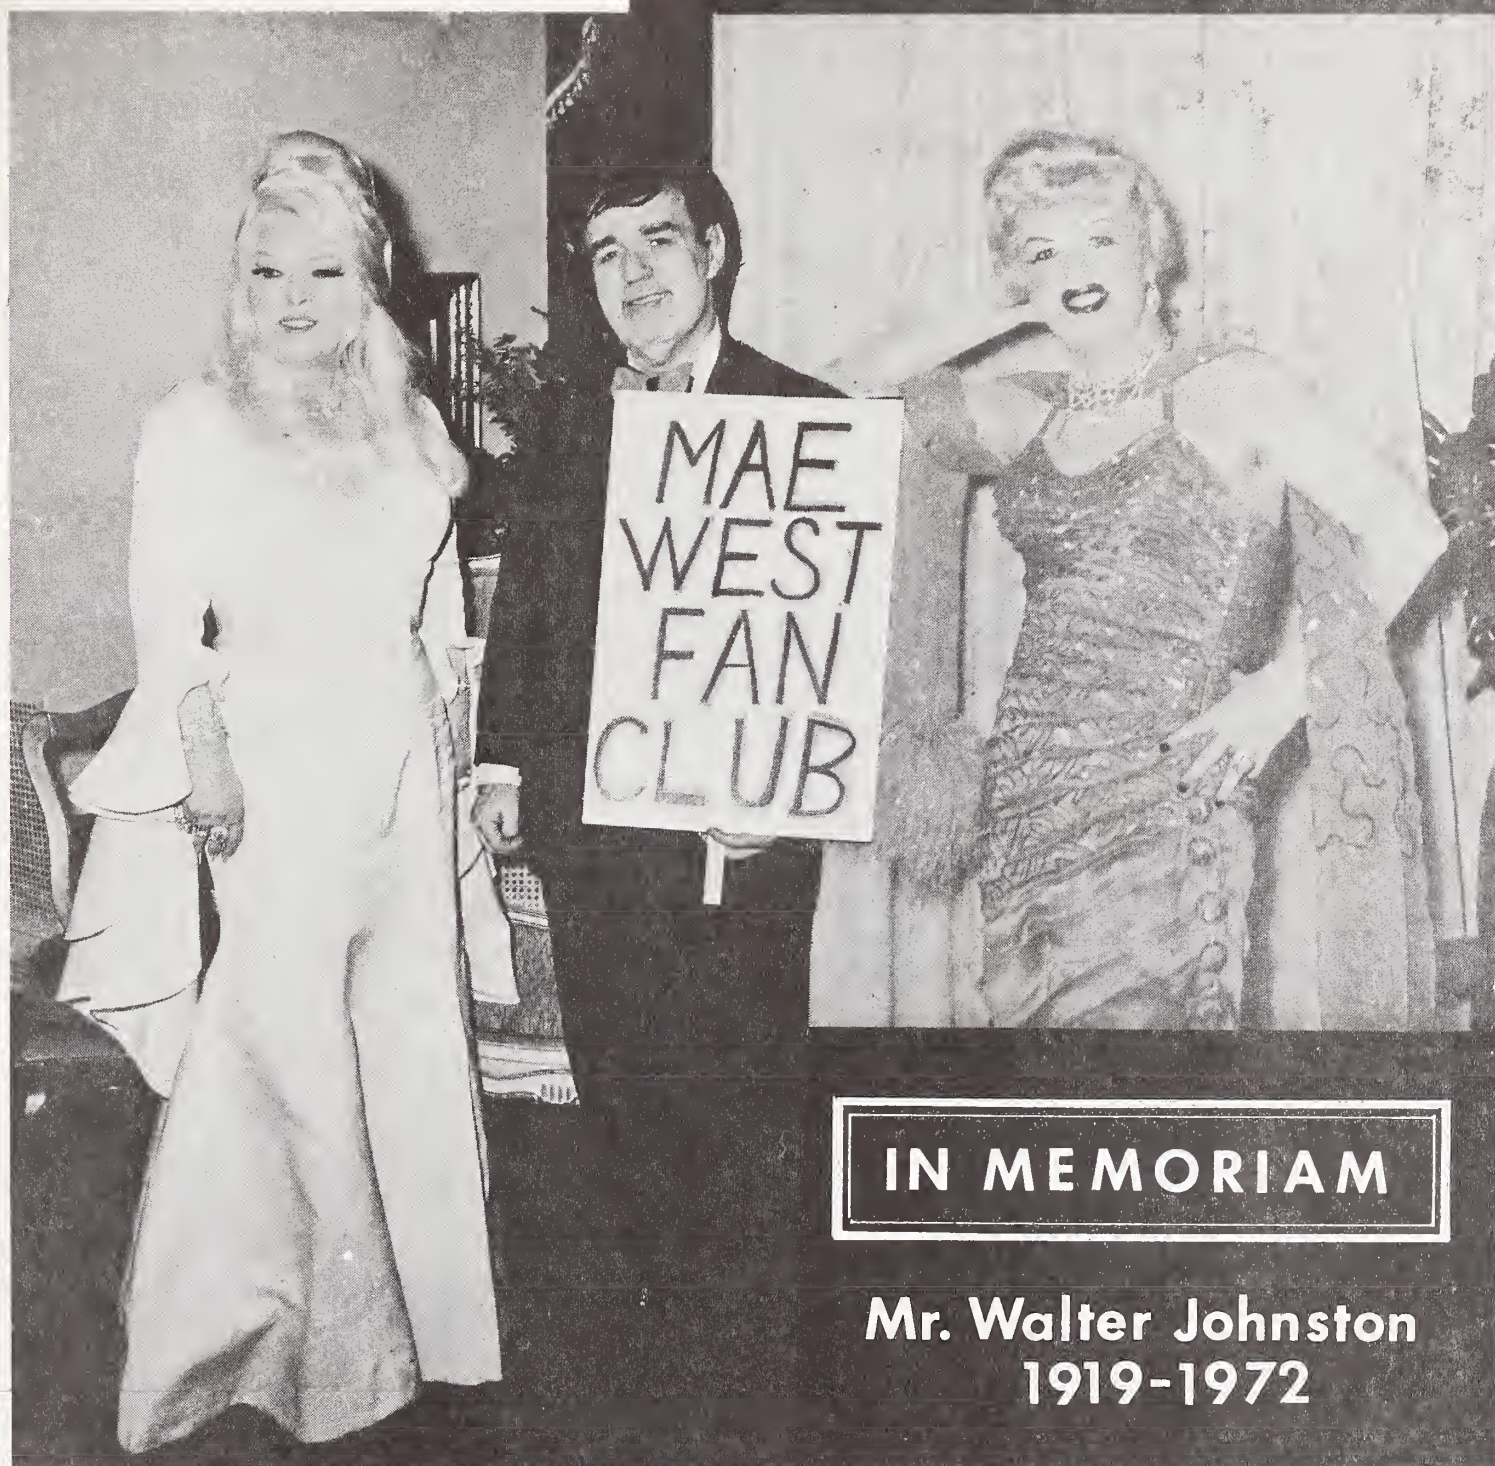

The event was one of the first drag weddings to be performed in New York City by an ordained minister. However, recent news reports have added a sequel to this story.

Basso, whose real name was reported in the public press to be John Wojtowicz, was apprehended in an attempt to rob a Brooklyn, N.Y. branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank. Wojtowicz and two accomplices were trapped in the bank by police and the trio held the bank employees as hostages. Along with the trio's demands for safe passage to the airport, Wojtowicz demanded to see his wife Liz Eden who was in Kings County Hospital under going a psychiatric examination after attempting suicide.

According to Wojtowicz, the holdup was engineered to obtain enough money to afford a sex reassignment operation for

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Walter Johnston
1919-1972

Mr. Walter Johnston, president of the Mae West Fan Club died on the 4th of July after a life-long battle with heart trouble.

Mr. Johnston always idolized and knew personally many stage and screen stars. From childhood one could always find him in their dressing room or at the stage door. He was a fan of Helen Hayes as well as Gloria Swanson and of course his idol....Mae West. He followed her career from Broadway to Hollywood.. obscurity to Super Stardom. He often talked to Miss West on the phone and cherished his meeting with her when she visited New York for the opening of her film MYRA BRECKENRIDGE.

Walter appeared in many clubs in the North East United States as Mae West.

He is survived by his mother who graciously loaned DRAG magazine the above photographs.

LIZ. Since early childhood Liz always had an uncontrollable desire to dress in women's clothing. According to a New York newspaper account, despite the foiled holdup Liz plans to have the operation in two stages...the final stage on November 14th....

JOAN OF ARC a regular girl? An Oxford University investigator has concluded that Joan of Arc had reason to wear men's garb.

The warrior saint's predilection for men's clothes many have been for protection "when with troops and in predominantly male company."

Despite the French heroine's "transvestism, physical prowess and apparent masculine drive," says F.E. Kenyon "there is no very convincing evidence in her history of overt lesbianism."

Transvestism is the tendency to wear clothing of the opposite sex.

"In fact there is no necessary connection between female transvestism and homosexuality and she appeared to be much more masculine than she really was," Kenyon says. He concedes that Joan had a very intense friendship with a girl called Haivette. But their habit of sleeping together was "a common custom at the time, particularly with girls who had made their first communion together."

He thinks Joan was immature and in fact somewhat of a prude -- she "over-reacted emotionally to the camp prostitutes," often going about them with the flat of her sword. (ed note: A typical feminist?)

Kenyon, a lecturer at Oxford, Presented his views in a medical magazine, The Practitioner.

WEST BERLIN: Male sperm reproduction is temporarily halted if a new anti-androgen pill is taken. Some prisoners are being offered the pills as an alternative to further incarceration...The Shering-AG firm says the pills should be used by child molesters, pederasts, exhibitionists, transvestites, peeping toms and "other deviants."...The pill when taken daily, eliminates the sex drive but six months after the pills are stopped sexual activity returns.

HOUSTON, TEXAS: A male in the process of going through the transsexual sex change, was arrested here for 'impersonating a woman.' He showed up in court in a pink mini-dress. The judge fined Richard Mayes, 25, a token $1 when he pled "no contest." Mayes told the press, "I felt terrible. The officers tore my wig off and made a lot of remarks I didn't care for."

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF: Transsexuals will be pleased to hear that there is a new walk-in counseling unit at 243 Turk Street: (415) 928-1232.

THE JEWEL BOX REVUE returned from Boston after only One week engagement of the popular female impersonation show. The reason: They weren't allowed to advertise female impersonation shows in the local papers.....

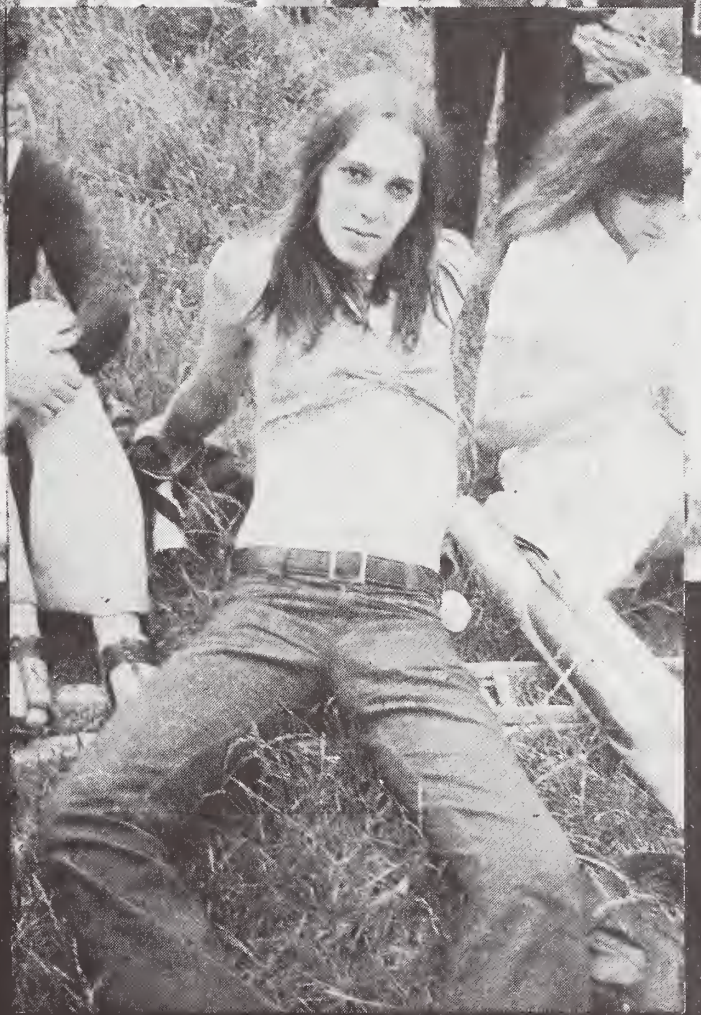

THE NEW YORK TIME'S CRITIC, Clive Barnes, saw the new musical, SUGAR (based on SOME LIKE IT HOT) and didn't like it. Barnes said Robert Morse was brilliant "playing Robert Morse in drag". The staging of the Show received rave reviews but the rest of the show was disappointing. (Lee Brewster, who attended the opening night of Sugar agrees with Mr. Barnes).

For the third 'straight' year commemorating the 'Stonewall Uprising,' which was spearheaded by the drag (tv), thousands of homosexuals marched to show their pride in being what they were....the butch, the fem, the leather 'queen' and of course the transvestite (straight as well as gay) all marched with heads held high.

QUEENS WITH BALLS..

Although it was a damp day, threatening to rain thousands of homosexuals did show up. Particularly heartening was the 'drag' turnout. For the first time both transvestite organizations in the North East marched

"falsie to falsie" (and some hormones too).

Having attended the two previous marches QLF can state that the TV has increased in attendance and unabashed visibility.

NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO: Guy Wright, SF Examiner columnist, said that he is in perfect agreement with consensual sex legislation but that 'these activities spill into the street. Grant sanctuary to homosexuals and soon drag queens take to the streets in flaunting parades.' Children, he says, must BE PROTECTED from homosexuals appearing on the street in drag and with lipstick on.

SHERIFF RICHARD HONGISTO was featured in June, PLAYBOY as a young playboy and progressive reformer. The magazine said that he had the support of the minorities in his election and that he was as comfortable with transvestites as anyone else.....

John Pompetti a barber in Philadelphia states men will soon be going into beauty salons if a bill sponsored by State Sen. Henry J. Cianfrani is passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature.

The bill would require barbers and cosmeticians to be licensed by the same agency - the Board of Cosmetology. "This would allow hairdressers to cut men's hair," declares Pompetti, an official of the Associated Master Barbers of America.

Sen. Cianfrani, a Democrat from So. Philadelphia, says it will never happen. "Can you imagine a male in So. Philadelphia walking into a beauty salon to get a haircut? It's about as likely as a woman going into a barber shop,"

But Pompetti doesn't agree.

"Quite a few barbers in center city have regular women customers already. More and more women are just getting haircuts these days. It's all these men who want 'hairdos' that I'm worried about". He says.

LONDON, ENGLAND: Popular band-leader Wally Scott became 'Angela Morly' following a sex change operation. Scott, 48, will continue to live with his wife of 30 years. They have a grown son and daughter. His son, 28, said, "We feel happy about Dad's operation" Scott explained: "I have had this problem and now I hope to be able to live a happy and dignified life -- as a woman." So it sounds like the English Version of Paula Grossman.....

VIETNAM: South Vietnamese police checking for draft dodgers detained a bar girl suspecting she was really a "he" because of her deep voice and discovered a rare deferment loophole.

It seems that the lady had undergone a sex-change operation three years ago just to avoid the draft. NOw how about that! con't page 32

SOCIETY

Salmacis is different, or at least we like to think so. There are lots of other organizations for tvs. There are correspondence clubs, social organizations, counseling groups and so on. The list seems endless.

Yet with all of these, there was still a gap. Was there any organization, anywhere, that helped tvs get together with girls who wouldn't freak out completely if their boy friend asked to borrow a dress for the evening?

It's true many of the other organizations didn't discourage girls from joining. Indeed many welcomed the girlfriends and wives of members, but that wasn't enough. What was needed was a group that would actively seek out female members, that would try to get across to girls, many of whom had never heard of a tv, the message that "Hey, here's a bunch of guys who aren't hung up on the stereotype he-man image, but who are still very much interested in meeting girls as friends, companions or anything else that might develop."

SALLY DOUGLAS, a well known personality among San Francisco Bay area tvs decided about a year ago that the time was right to try to fill this gap.

Sally probably knows as many tvs as anyone around, so she got to work and sent out invitations to the local people she thought might be interested in the project.

The response was encouraging and the first couple of meetings, though pleasant social events themselves, were devoted to figuring out how to attract more female members.

As the club grew, it also changed. From introducing girls to tvs, it was a short and logical step to providing an atmosphere where any feminine person (male or female) could feel comfortable meeting other feminine people (male or female). With this in mind the club shifted from meeting in private homes to meeting in various of the girls' gay bars in the area. This also has the advantage of moving the meeting place around so that if one location is inconvenient, the other would probably be better. It has also interested people who might otherwise not have heard of the club.

Currently the club meets at two locations, but plans are afoot to hold some special events in other places with the thought in mind of increasing the number of clubs available for the regular meetings as well. The special events planned are in addition to the current schedule of 'socials' every first and third Thursday of the month.

One of the club's biggest problems is trying to reach the people who might be interested, particularly when this is such a specialized group. Since fresh faces and new points of view are the key to success in a social organization like Salmacis, the advertising campaign is kept up in any way the members can devise that seems practical. So far classified ads in underground and women's newspapers, a permanent phone number for information, posters in the place we meet, and a prospectus explaining the group have been tried. In addition to this general advertising, articles like this one in specialized publications like DRAG and the TVIS JOURNAL should reach people we might otherwise miss.

Currently the only requirement for joining SALMACIS is a strong pro-feminine interest, but attendance at social functions is usually limited in that males must be feminine in appearance and deportment (at least while the meeting is going on!) Occasionally at some special event this rule is relaxed so that people not yet members can become acquainted with the group.

Salmacis began in the San Francisco area, but people in other parts of the country have been inquiring about organizing chapters, and work is under way to find methods of making this possible.

If YOU are interested in Salmacis you should write to the Society (see address on previous page).

NEWS

MORE ABOUT INTRO 475:" The public hearings in my opinion didn't have any effect on the votes of the various councilmen. Public hearings almost never do. You do them for reasons apart from changing the opinions of councilmen," Councilman Clingan stated. He added, "the presence of transvestites and some commotion during the hearings had not really defeated the bill, as some gay spokesmen had charged, but were only a problem in that it provided some of the councilmen with an excuse on which to hang their opposition. They would have been opposed for other reasons regardless of the demonstrations.

Intro 475 is the NYC bill which would provide fair employment and fair housing for homosexuals. The Gay Lib movement wishes to exclude the transvestite from coverage under this bill.. OLF has been fighting to make sure specific rejection of the tv issue isn't included in the bill when it is reintroduced.

COLUMBUS OHIO: Dresses were ruled ok for beard-wearers. The Franklin County Court of Appeals, in dismissing cases again against three bearded men arrested last December at a Gay Activists Alliance dance, dance said they "Apparently are not trying to pass as women.?"

The law under which they had been charged forbids public nudity or in "dress not belonging to his or her sex."

Despite dismissal of the charges, the secretary of the Gay Activists, Patrice Miller, said it cannot be considered a victory because the court upheld the constitutionality of the law.

The judges said in their ruling that the law prevents persons from being victimized by impersonators of the opposite sex.

BINGHAMTON, N.Y.: A Binghamton woman who accused a tavern owner of discrimination against her on the basis of sex in refusing to serve her following a sex-change operation last year has lost the case before the state Human Rights Division.

Francis R. Thompson, 39, filed a complaint with the Syracuse office of the agency that accused Gondo's Restaurant and Lounge of denying her equal accomodation under civil rights laws.

Miss Thompson said, Genesio Riccardi, the owner of the tavern, which she frequented before her operation, told her after she returned to the bar from the women's restroom that she would not be served in the future if she continued to use the restroom instead of the men's.

The agency ruled that it had found no probable cause to believe the owner had practiced unlawful discrimination in the case.

IMPERSONATION LAW OUT IN PROVIDENCE, R.I.....A state liquor control regulation originally intended to curb homosexual bars has been axed as a result of a controversy over a female impersonation act in an area night club.

The regulation, which banned either sex from impersonating the other in night club acts, is probably unconstitutional, said Liquor Control Administrator Deeb G. Sarkas in commenting on his decision to repeal it.

The 34-year-old rule came under fire as a result of a controversy over a show called "Guys will be Dolls" at the Carillion Club in the Providence suburb of Johnson.

The club's license was suspended by the town council but later reinstated by Sarkas pending a council hearing on the club's appeal. Sarkas then delayed the appeal hearing until after his own hearing on the repeal of the rule, which was held May 9.

The only persons who attended the hearing were Carillion Club owner Joseph Ferri and attorney Everett A. Petronio, representing the club manager and the performers.

Petronio argued that the rule had outlived its usefulness and was an unnecessary burden on establishments serving liquor. He said it would bar such performers as television personality Flip Wilson from doing his "Geraldine" skit in Rhode Island.

Sarkas said he saw nothing offensive in the "Guys Will Be Dolls" show, which has been playing to capacity crowds for months. He said he had sent notices about the hearing to all police chiefs and liquor license boards in the state and had advertised in five newspapers without finding anyone who objected to repealing the regulation.

LASSIE EXPOSED as a transvestite...

ALICE COOPER. the male whose record "Killer" has sold one million copies, was blasted in the San Francisco Chronicle and the Chicago Tribune. The Chronicle said that homosexuals should picket his appearances because he makes his 'homosexual' portrayal into something very sick and distorted. The high-point of Coopers routine is when he, in drag, tears apart a baby doll and throws the parts into the audience.

A HISTORY OF FEMALE IMPERSONATION ON THE STAGE

For the first time the complexities of this extraordinary branch of theatrical technique are fully explored in Roger Baker's serious and absorbing work.

What is the relationship between female impersonation and homosexuality? Where do compulsive transvestites fit into the scheme of things? How do glamorous impersonators shape themselves like women? What is the relevance of drugs and hormone injections?

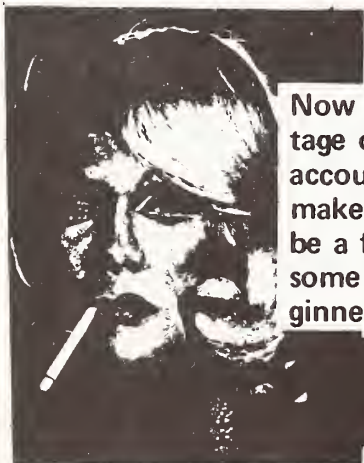

All these, and many more questions are answered as the reader makes his way through a glittering gallery of heroines, strippers, tragic women, dames, comic figures and sopranos—all of whom are MEN.

Miss High-Heels

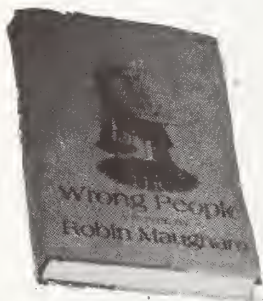

This is the most extraordinary story of how Dennis Evelyn Beryl, a young Englishman of the upper class, is transformed, under the supervision of his step-sister Helen, into a beautiful young woman. Intended by his father to one day become a Cabinet minister, or perhaps even Prime Minister, Dennis falls into the clutches of his step-sister Helen when his father dies. Helen shrewdly discerns his secret fantasies and contrives to have Dennis sent to a girls' school for two years. There he is kept from mirrors and molded into a beautiful young woman.
